Early years foundation stage (EYFS)

All pupils in the EYFS are taught music as an integral part of the topic work covered during the academic year.

All musical objectives within the EYFS are underpinned by the objectives of the early learning goals (ELGs).

The music curriculum in the EYFS is delivered with particular reference to the ELG16 – exploring and using media and materials, which enables children to:

- Sing songs, make music and dance, and experiment with ways of developing the sounds and movements used.
- Safely use and explore a variety of materials, tools and techniques, experimenting with colour, design, texture, form and function.
- Use what they have learnt about media and materials in original ways, thinking about uses and purposes.
- Represent their own ideas, thoughts and feelings through design and technology, art, music, dance, role-play and stories.

National curriculum

All pupils within KS1 and KS2 are taught music in line with the requirements of the national curriculum.

In KS1, pupils will be taught to:

- Use their voices expressively and creatively by singing songs and speaking chants and rhymes.
- Play tuned and untuned instruments musically.

- Listen with concentration and understanding to a range of high-quality live and recorded music.
- Experiment with, create, select and combine sounds using the inter-related dimensions of music.

In KS2, the focus for music will be to teach pupils to sing and play musically with increasing confidence and control. They will be able to develop an understanding of musical composition, organising and manipulating ideas within musical structures and reproducing sounds from aural memory.

In KS2, pupils will be taught to:

- Play and perform in solo and ensemble contexts, using their voices and playing musical instruments with increasing accuracy, fluency, control and expression.
- Improvise and compose music for a range of purposes using the inter-related dimensions of music.
- Listen with attention to detail and recall sounds with increasing aural memory.
- Use and understand staff and other musical notations.
- Appreciate and understand a wide range of high-quality live and recorded music drawn from different traditions and from great composers and musicians.
- Develop an understanding of the history of music.

Cross-curricular links

Wherever possible, the music curriculum will provide opportunities to establish links with other curriculum areas.

ICT

- Pupils learn to use technology to compose music, and enhance their research skills through the internet and CD ROMs.
- Pupils listen to music electronically and record compositions electronically.
- Pupils are able to present their work using programs such as Word and PowerPoint.

Spiritual, moral, social and cultural development

- Pupils learn to work effectively with their peers and others, and build positive relationships.
- Pupils learn to build their self-confidence through learning to play musical instruments and participating in musical performances.
- Pupils learn to reflect on mood and senses through listening to and interpreting music.
- Pupils develop an understanding of other cultures and develop positive attitudes through appreciating music from other societies.

Teaching and learning

Music lessons are delivered twice a week for KS2, and once a week for KS1.

Teaching of music is delivered by specialist teachers in Years 2 to 6.

In Reception and Year 1, teaching of music is delivered by the class teacher.

Pupils will be taught to describe key characteristics and associated processes in common language, as well as understand and use technical terminology and specialist vocabulary.

Pupils will undertake independent work, and will have the opportunity to work in groups and discuss work with fellow classmates.

Lessons focus on a wide range of musical skills and understanding, including the following:

- Singing in tune and alongside others
- Structure and organisation of music
- Appreciating different forms of music

- Listening to music, progressing to extended pieces of music as pupils move through year groups
- Representing feelings and emotions through music
- Recognising pulse and pitch
- Using the voices of others to combine and make different sounds
- Musical notation and how to compose music

The classroom teacher, in collaboration with the subject leader, will ensure that the needs of all pupils are met by:

- Setting tasks which can have a variety of responses.
- Providing resources of differing complexity, according to the ability of the pupils.
- Setting tasks of varying difficulty, depending on the ability group.
- Utilising teaching assistants to ensure that pupils are effectively supported.

Focus is put on the development of a deep structural knowledge and the ability to make connections, with the aim of ensuring that what is learnt is sustained over time.

At name of school, we do not prioritise between technical proficiency and conceptual understanding, and we aim to develop these in parallel.

Planning

Planning of the music curriculum is tailored towards three areas of progress:

- Increasing breadth and range of musical experiences
- Increasing challenge and difficulty in musical activities
- Increasing confidence, sensitivity and creativity in pupils' music-making

The school creates long-term, medium-term and short-term plans for delivery of the music curriculum – these are as follows:

- Long-term: includes the music topics studied in each term during the key stage
- Medium-term: includes the details of work studied each month
- Short-term: includes the details of work studied during each lesson

The subject leader is responsible for reviewing and updating long-term and medium-term plans, and communicating these to teachers.

Teachers are responsible for reviewing and updating short-term plans, building on the medium-term plans, taking into account pupils' needs and identifying the methods in which topics could be taught.

All relevant staff members are briefed on the school's planning procedures as part of their staff training.

In the school, music is taught both as a discrete lesson and as part of cross-curricular themes when appropriate.

Teachers will use the key learning content in the DfE's statutory guidance 'Music programmes of study: key stages 1 and 2', published in 2013.

Lesson plans will demonstrate a balance of interactive and independent elements used in teaching, ensuring that all pupils engage with their learning.

There will be a clear focus on direct, instructional teaching and interactive oral work with the whole class and targeted groups.

Long-term planning will be used to outline the units to be taught within each year group.

Medium-term planning will be used to outline the vocabulary and skills that will be taught in each unit of work, as well as highlight the opportunities for assessment.

Medium-term plans will identify learning objectives, main learning activities and differentiation.

Medium-term plans will be shared with the subject leader to ensure there is progression between years.

Short-term planning will be used flexibly to reflect the objectives of the lesson, the success criteria and the aims of the next lesson.

All lessons will have clear learning objectives, which are shared and reviewed with pupils.

Homework will be set on a weekly basis and will build on that week's lesson objectives.

Homework will take a variety of formats, including written tasks, practising music, listening to music, and music games.

Assessment and reporting

Pupils will be assessed and their progression recorded in line with the school's Assessment Policy.

Pupils aged between two and three will be assessed in accordance with the 'Statutory framework for the early years foundation stage', in order to identify a pupils' strengths and identify areas where progress is less than expected.

An EYFS Profile will be completed for each pupil in the final term of the year in which they reach age five.

The progress and development of pupils within the EYFS is assessed against the early learning goals outlined in the 'Statutory framework for the early years foundation stage'.

Throughout the year, teachers will plan on-going creative assessment opportunities in order to gauge whether pupils have achieved the key learning objectives.

Assessment will be undertaken in various forms, including the following:

- Talking to pupils and asking questions
- Discussing pupils' work with them
- Marking work against the learning objectives
- Pupils' self-evaluation of their work
- Classroom tests and formal exams

Formative assessment, which is carried out informally throughout the year, enables teachers to identify pupils' understanding of subjects and inform their immediate lesson planning.

In terms of summative assessments, the results of end-of-year assessments will be passed to relevant members of staff, such as pupils' future teachers, in order to demonstrate where pupils are at a given point in time.

Summative assessments are also used at the end of a unit of work. Teachers will make a judgement about the work of each pupil in relation to the national curriculum – the score will be noted in the pupils' workbooks.

Standardised tests will be used once a year, towards the end of the academic year, to measure each pupil's attainment in all areas of music. These results will be compared with an 'average' for all pupils of that age.

Parents will be provided with a written report about their child's progress during the Summer term every year. These will include information on pupils' attitudes towards music, understanding of musical terminology, investigatory skills and the knowledge levels they have achieved.

Verbal reports will be provided at parent-teacher interviews during the Autumn and Spring terms.

The progress of pupils with SEND will be monitored by the SENCO.

Musical events and opportunities

All pupils are encouraged to participate in additional musical opportunities to enhance their learning and development.

The school choir meets on a weekly basis to allow pupils to enjoy singing together. The school choir also performs in public on a number of occasions throughout the year.

The school also offers a school orchestra where pupils can learn to play musical instruments and enjoy playing music in an ensemble. The school orchestra also performs in public on a number of occasions throughout the year.

The school will provide an appropriate space and equipment for pupils to practice their instruments, ensuring that time slots to use the space are allocated fairly.

The following opportunities are available:

- School choir
- School orchestra
- Private tuition to play musical instruments

Resources

The subject leader is responsible for the management and maintenance of musical resources, as well as for liaising with the school business manager in order to purchase further resources.

Musical resources will be stored in each classroom, including books and instruments.

Classrooms containing musical resources are locked whenever not in use.

The school library contains an array of resources and topic books to support pupils' research.

DVDs and CD ROMs are available allowing pupils to listen to a wide range of music.

Resources which are not required on a daily basis, and those in relation to key whole-school topics, will be stored in the store room.

Display walls will be utilised and updated on a termly basis, in accordance with the area of music being taught at the time.

Musical equipment and resources will be easily accessible to pupils during lessons.

The subject leader will undertake an audit of musical equipment and resources on an annual basis.

Equal opportunities

All pupils will have equal access to the music curriculum.

Gender, learning ability, physical ability, ethnicity, linguistic ability and/or cultural circumstances will not impede pupils from accessing music lessons.

Where it is inappropriate for a pupil to participate in a lesson because of reasons related to any of the factors outlined above, the lessons will be adapted to meet the pupil's needs and alternative arrangements involving extra support will be provided where necessary.

All efforts will be made to ensure that cultural and gender differences are positively reflected in lessons and the teaching materials used.

Sir Robert Geffery's School aims to provide more able pupils with the opportunity to extend their musical thinking through extension activities such as listening to and interpreting extended pieces of music, and research of a musical nature.

Monitoring and review

This policy will be reviewed on an annual basis by the subject leader.

The subject leader will monitor teaching and learning in the subject at Sir Robert Geffery's School, ensuring that the content of the national curriculum is covered across all phases of pupils' education.

A named member of the governing body is briefed to oversee the teaching of music, and meets regularly with the subject leader to review progress.

Any changes made to this policy will be communicated to all teaching staff.
