

We Love
Reading at ...

SIR ROBERT
GEFFERY'S
PRIMARY SCHOOL

"I use my reading skills all the time - here at school and at home - mainly to find out information and to learn new things.

In my spare time, I enjoy reading adventure novels and this is normally somewhere comfortable like on a sofa or on a garden chair in the sunshine."

Mr O'Hara

Headteacher

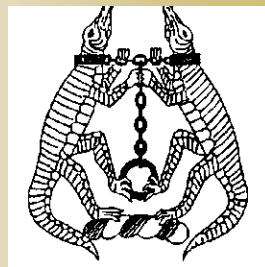

We All Love Reading at SRG

"Sharing stories brings our imaginations to life and from a very young age my parents would read me stories which took me on many exciting adventures! I love to share this wonder with my little girl at home and with my own class; the youngest children in the school."

Mrs Hawkings

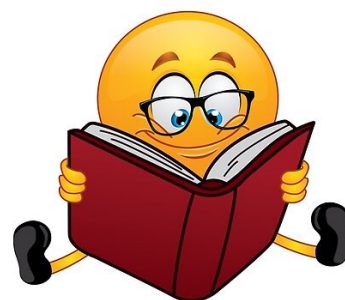

Reception Teacher and English Subject Leader

"I love reading about people and their lives, especially women who have made historic achievements."

Reverend Laura

"I was lucky to grow-up in a book rich home with parents who read for pleasure. My mum and dad are the biggest influence on why I have always loved to read."

Mrs James

Year 1 Teacher

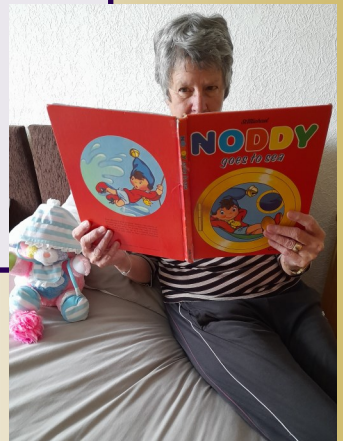

"I love reading, I've always loved reading."

Jill Jarvis, Governor

"I enjoy reading crime, thrillers and historical fiction. I love reading at any time and in many different places but a favourite at the moment is in the garden on a sunny afternoon."

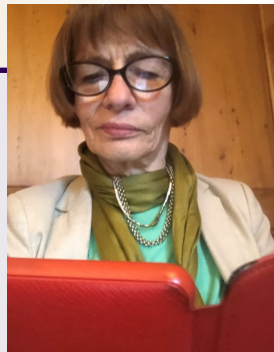

Lynn Dowell, Governor

Our Governors Love Reading

"This book is by a great friend of mine and it's called 'Unsuspecting Hero'. It's the first of a series of thrillers about an ex military intelligence officer, Sam Greene (Samantha) who is a James Bond for our time."

Elizabeth Cairncross, Governor and Member of the Academy Trust

"I love to curl up of an evening and relax with my latest favourite book."

Kathy Jones,
Governor

"Sharing books with my granddaughter is so magical as it helps give her the same love of books and stories that I have enjoyed all my life."

Owain Hughes, Governor

"I enjoy reading all sorts of books but usually only get time for a few pages in bed at night. Reading on holiday is a big treat!"

Mandy Kellagher
Governor

"I love a good read before I go to bed."

Trish Burfoot, Caretaker

Our Staff Love Reading

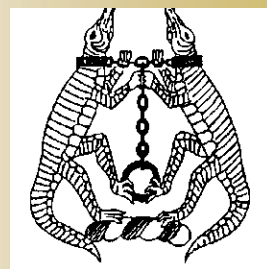

"I love to share stories with my sons at bed-time! We enjoy using different voices, taking in turns to read parts and spotting different details in the illustrations. One of our favourite stories at the moment is 'Pirates Love Underpants'."

Mrs Clark, teacher

"I like the way reading lets you explore so many different possibilities." William, Y6

"I love reading because I learn how to read words using the letters."

Eddie, Y1

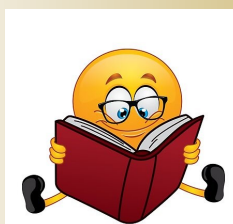

Our Children Love Reading too!

Reading relaxes me and makes me feel better if I'm feeling frustrated or angry." Seren, Y3

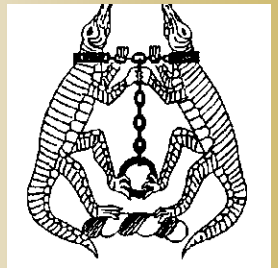

"In a lengthy book, like about magic, you can let your imagination go wild and disappear into the book." Shepherd, Y3

"I like reading thick books and things like Beast Quest."

Hector, Y1

"I like the way reading opens doors to new worlds, including imaginary things like elves and centaurs." Tilly, Y3

"I read books about animals ... I like to learn about them."

Kezia, Y1
